

radiant future

Newsletter Vol. 12 / November 2009

Contents:

* New website

recidivist development, all Radiant Future items are now available at a reduced price.

-----
Podcast

* 'Time Gentlemen Please' reviewed

(NB: offer extends only until the end of time. Get 'em now while you still can).

Piley and Mondo's animal-themed podcast, featuring a spot of Mammalian behaviour and chat, is right here.

* Podcast

-----
'Time Gentlemen Please' reviews

-----
Archive Kylie

* Disco-marsupial

-----
Webbage

The arrival of the long-hoped for Radiant Future website is announced – all mammalian requisites (and more) are now clearly identifiable and available in one place.

More reviews of Martin Gordon's 'Time...', in which eagle-eared scribes note that the 'creepily insidious crawl' of 'I Feel Fine' is one of the 'finest Beatles covers ever', as opposed to that other cloth-eared git who referred to it as 'a dirge'. Friend of Onan, of that there is no doubt. His anonymity has been removed for the protection of miners.

No, it's not a request. Footage of the sex-wombat with, curiously, Mammalmeister Martin Gordon on keyboards, re-emerges, from the Smash Hits awards of 1994.

To celebrate the debut of this compelling, engaging and yet oddly

-----
More news as always right here. Submit your terms to the Glossary.

RADIANT FUTURE RECORDS

More music for grown-ups. And iDiots.

Please be environmentally friendly and think before you have your next thought. Is it REALLY necessary? Could you not recycle the half-baked thought that you had whilst staggering home last night? And pass it off as a new thought, thus saving the planet and creating at least half of one whole carbon football, which you can kick around behind the bike-sheds at feeding time? You know it makes sense.